“SADDLE UP” IN STYLE AT THE KENTUCKY DERBY
WITH ONE OF KIND FINDS AT SCOTTSDALE BOUTIQUE

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (April 14, 2010) – A new boutique at el Pedregal called Mumbo Jumbo-Antiques, Boutique & Habedashery sets up ladies in style for this year’s Kentucky Derby in May offering a wide selection of one of a kind, hand made, Victorian hats by Elsie Massey. Each of the Kentucky Derby hats are made with straw and have a large brim adorned with ruffled lace and distinctive fabrics. The hats come with the signature, Elsie Massey English net and a striking arrangement of flowers and feathers. Because each of the hats are made by hand, all of the designs are unique from one another. Owner, Sherry Nelson says, “We have a fantastic selection of hats including touring hats and “walk in the park” hats, to straw hats and riding hats. If you are attending the Derby this year, or merely want to be a stand out at a local party or event, we’ve got the perfect hats to try.”

In the past, the English touring hats were worn by Victorian ladies for morning walks and afternoon tea, however, today these hats are popular for ladies lunches, theme parties, or even used as decoration in the home. Designer, Elsie Massey is a fourth generation Victorian stylist. The Massey designs originated in New Castle-on-tyne in England by her Grandmother and the family’s unique craft has since been passed down generations. Currently, all creations are made by Elsie and her daughter’s Soroya and Elaine.
