STEFAN MANN MAXIMIZES STYLE THIS SUMMER
WITH NEW ENVIRONMENTALLY FRIENDLY T.O.T.E. COLLECTION

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz (April 23, 2010) --- Stefan Mann at el Pedregal, known for their large selection of handbags, business cases and luggage introduces a new eco-friendly collection this summer called T.O.T.E by Urban Junket. Urban Junket puts a twist on recycling with fresh, new handbags that observe the Earth by moving recycling from bins to boutiques, creating a marriage of environmental functionality and deliberate design.

All of the “convertible totes” are made with 100% organic cotton and azo-free dyes and then, coated in canvas to give them a lustrous exterior. The blue lining is all RPET fabric, made from recycled plastic water bottles transformed to thread and dyed using 100% organic vegetable dyes. Each bag is very versatile and can change into three different shapes with the use of strategically placed snaps. The bags come in a variety of colors including Black, Magenta, Violet, Grass, Scarlet, Chocolate, Ecru and Indigo. $1.00 from each sale of each T.O.T.E. bag will be donated to carbonfree.org that aids the emissions created in the production and transportation of each bag.

ABOUT URBAN JUNKET

Urban Junket was formed in an effort to fill the unmet needs of busy women who love fashion and style, but still need to carry and organize their stuff in a functional way. These women exist all over the country. They are working mothers, busy students, young urban professionals, semi-retired baby boomers or busy suburbanites with demanding schedules. They have busy work lives, busy family obligations, a desire for personal expression and growth, they may travel often, they may take their own physical and financial health seriously, they might have 4 kids, or two dogs and a cat, or just a house plant that they can't always remember to water. They might be 24 or they might be 65, but what they all have in common is their love for boutique store fashion and their desire to carry a lot of stuff with them and keep it organized at all times.
